SUPERNUMERARIES

Otis L. Cobb, Albany
Abram G. Marston, Hartford
W. L. Merrill, Hebron
Una Sargent, Roxbury

The first case coming to trial, Thursday morning, was that of Caroline Pallesehi of Rumford vs Stanley Anderson of Dixfield. This action was brought to recover damages from the defendant who was declared by the plaintiff to be the father of her illegitimate child. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

Next was an action for assault between Felix Kutiniuk, plaintiff, and Zigmund Lablonski, defendant. The alleged assault took place at Rumford June 8. Nearly all the evidence was taken through an interpreter. The matter was settled out of court.

On Friday afternoon the grand jury returned over 30 indictments, about half of which were made public. The following have been entered on the docket:

Albert Maillet, alias Albert Maillett, of Kittery. Reckless driving.
Joseph T. Bryant, Jr. of Paris. Larceny, two indictments.
William Guptill and Orman McAllister, both of Lovell. Breaking and entering and larceny.

COLLISION AT WEST BETHEL

It is reported that a Buick sedan driven by Mrs. A. Verville of Bethel was in a collision with a heavy truck loaded with pressed hay and driven by Harold Thurston of Andover in West Bethel village last Thursday afternoon. The truck was not disabled but the Buick was badly damaged on one side in the sideswipe and Mrs. Verville's companion, a lady from Berlin, suffered quite serious cuts and bruises.

GOULD OUTPLAYS BRIDGTON 13-6

WINNERS PLAY HARD TO OVERCOME EARLY TOUGH BREAKS BROWNE OUTSTANDING

Gould Academy ended its first year of varsity football in a blaze of glory, trouncing the Bridgton High School eleven before a large crowd here last Saturday. Bud Browne was outstanding in this game turning in some beautiful runs as well as fine tackles. Lane also shone in the backfield play, while Martinson ran back punts in great style. In the line the play of Gould's sophomore ends, Daniel and Mundt, was a feature of the game, as was also the play of Davis at tackle.

For Bridgton, Reynolds, fullback, played a whale of a game making many gains on his drives into the line. Chapman, Gleason and Meserve also played well for the visitors.

The game started with Gould receiving the kickoff and carrying the ball to midfield. On a series of plays and an exchange of punts the ball was carried to the Bridgton 5-yard line only to fumble and have the ball recovered by the visitors. The first period ended with no score.

In the second period the Blue and Gold started another drive which was stopped by another fumble; this time on the 3-yard line. Bridgton kicked from behind the goal line to Martinson who made a beautiful run-back for 30 yards to within two yards of the goal only to fumble. But this time the ball rolled over the goal line and was downed by Thorpe for the first touchdown. The point after touchdown was missed, leaving the score 6-0 at the half time.

At the beginning of the third period Gould again received the kickoff and in six plays went the length of the field for the second touchdown. Beautiful open-field running by Lane and Browne featured this drive. The extra point was good, making the score 13-0. The remainder of the period was played in midfield.

In the last quarter the visitors, on their final stand, fought to the end. A punt was blocked on the 6-yard line which was easily converted into a touchdown for the crowd, making the score 13-6 at the end of the game.

A fine crowd witnessed the game and were well pleased by the brilliant climax to Gould's first year in football.

SHIRLEY J. RAWSON

Shirley J. Rawson, principal of Harbor High School, died at Bar Harbor at 1:30 Sunday morning as a result of a shock suffered a few hours earlier.

Mr. Rawson was born in Paris Jan. 9, 1891, the son of Mrs. Charlotte Peters and the late Charles Rawson. He graduated from Paris High School in 1909 and from Bates College in 1914.

He was principal of Brownville High School for two years, and for 4 years was in Mexico, part of the time as principal of the high school and part of the time as superintendent of schools. For the past four years he had been at Bar Harbor.

In 1914 he married Miss Bessie Cole of South Paris, who with his mother, Mrs. Charlotte Peters, and more distant relatives, survives him.

He was a member of Walton Lodge, K. of P., at Mexico, and was a member of the Odd Fellows, the Masons, and the Eastern Star at Bar Harbor.

Funeral services were held at Bar Harbor Tuesday morning and the remains were brought to South Paris where services were conducted by Walton Lodge, K. of P., at Riverside Cemetery.

NEW EQUIPMENT AND BOOKS AT LIBRARY

It is time the librarians of Bethel Library had something to encourage them, and we rejoice to say that it has come in the beautiful new charging desk, fitted with every convenience for library use, just now presented by William J. Upson, that always interested and generous member of the Board of Trustees. This will be a valuable acquisition in the way of furnishing for the new building which we hope some day to have. At this time a new charging system is being put into adoption under which each patron will have a borrower's card.

Owing to inadequate housing the librarians are not able to make such observance of Children's Week as they would wish. But a few new books for children and young people will be put into circulation. And the Association has purchased an illustrated encyclopedia with colored plates, in 15 volumes, which it is hoped will be of service to those of school age.

Privileges which can be had for nothing and as a matter of course, are too often, as we know, little appreciated. If there are any who are not acquainted with the splendid work which our two competent and devoted librarians are doing, unheralded and unacclaimed, and poorly recompensed as it is, it would be a pleasant experience for them to spend an hour or so of an afternoon in the library room and watch the work go on. They could certainly come away with an awakened enthusiasm and appreciation of what the Library Association is doing for this community. Below is the list of books:

The White Leopard, Inglis Fletcher
The Bastable Children, E. Nesbit
The Five Children, E. Nesbit
Peacock Eggs, Mary M. Baker
The Flood Fighters, Thames Williamson
On the Bottom, Edward Ellsberg

KITCHEN IMPROVEMENT CONTEST GIVEN HEARTY WELCOME HERE

The 1933 Kitchen Improvement contest was given a hearty welcome last Wednesday, when seventy men and women met at the Bethel Grange Hall.

This contest, in which the Maine Federation of Farm Bureaus is awarding four prizes, is open to every home maker in this county except those living within the city of Rumford. Contestants need not be members of the Oxford County Farm Bureau. Each contestant must enroll in writing. Her kitchen will be scored before and after. The score card is a standard one published by the Maine Extension Service, and the home demonstration agent will do all the scoring.

The final awards will be based on the greatest improvement for the least expenditure of money. The use of material on hand and the labor of the man of the house will all help the score.

Speakers at the meeting were: Mrs. Leslie Millett of Norway, who described the kitchen she has just made over; Miss Edna Cobb, Home Management Specialist, of Orono; Mr. Clesson Turner, Agricultural Engineer; and Oxford County's two Extension agents.

For further information about the Kitchen Improvement contest, call or write Miss Ada Brewster, your home demonstration agent, at South Paris.

A D. S. BROOKS LETTER

THE COURT OF PUBLIC OPINION

In my travels this Fall in and out of the state, I have heard remarks made by persons who were not always correctly informed on the subject matter of their conversation. It would appear as an echo of some other voice. Doubtless they were influenced by the line of talk that was last put up to them, without giving the matter any real self-thinking. That sort of individual may be influenced in any direction by a person of stronger mind. I have known bitter words to have been spoken of either of the major candidates for the presidency, without a single mention of any of their good points. Of course, that is a trait of "Old Man Politics" during the wageing of a campaign just prior to election. We know now the results of the balloting. It is apparent at this late hour, even in the remotest corner of the country, whom the nation has selected for its chief executive for the next four years. I have recognized many admirable qualities in either of these two outstanding personalities; Mr. Hoover, and Mr. Roosevelt. But here is where I differ from many citizens in this community. I could not conscientiously vote for either candidate. Citizens of the State of Maine who have read my articles in the dailies and weeklies of their respective towns know of my uncompromising stand for Prohibition as embodied in the Eighteenth Amendment. And when I am in possession of facts and my mind is made up on an issue, whether political or otherwise, no man nor devil can change it! Mr. Roosevelt declared for repeal of the 18th Amendment and Mr. Hoover "straddled" the issue in his speech of acceptance. The foregoing positions constitute the reason why my name was not checked on the voting list last Tuesday. But I shall be loyal, in the Bible sense to the conquering hero, even though my views may differ in some respects, widely, from his. I do not believe in vulgar and disrespectful things being spoken of a president, or any high official, of the United States—known as the greatest nation on the face of the globe. I hope there may be some who will take this hint and profit by it. But, in decent language, we are privileged to give expression to personal views however they may disagree with those of superior office. Free speech and free press are characteristics of Americanism. I believe in public discussion (but not petty gossip). It is stimulating to the health of the nation, the commonwealth, the community, and to the individual who participates.

The Court of Public Opinion sits in judgment upon every oral or written sentence or deed of consequence. That is progression and liberty that broadens the personnel of our citizenship at home or abroad. A principal in a matter of language or performance that hides his face for shame when the searchlight of Truth flashes upon him had best be abolished from society. I wish that Bethel had a public forum where matters of general interest and importance might be debated at least once a month. The nearest approach to such a program is the attitude taken by the Citizen in its feature known as "The Finger Points." Do you know that is an interesting column! I am glad it has been incorporated into the paper. It causes us all to take a more lively interest in matters that concern the welfare of the community. It is not an insult to well-behaved citizens, when things are cited that need correction or change. On the contrary to "slams and slurs," it is a compliment to us showing that we live in a town that seeks the best things for its people: that, unseemly conditions should not exist in such a noble and historic town as ours.

And lastly, I would add that more comments or criticisms of any real man or woman of worth and character need never be feared. When such a one is tried in the furnace fires of publicity,—the hotter the fire,—it shows the true manhood or womanhood all the whiter and more majestic. Therefore, why be fearful of the Court of Public Opinion?

THE CITIZEN-PRINTERS

THE FINGER POINTS

In and Around Bethel

Gordon E. Lathrop

Sounds Like Chicago!

Ooh, goodie, goodie, goodie! I'm agoing for a "ride!" "The Finger Points" has been officially warned that "the boys" didn't like the light turned on their pinochle game, and unless he ceased getting peoples' goats by printing truths about their eccentricities he would be "taken for a ride one of these cold evenings and dumped into the pond." Coming from anyone but an official that would sound like a threat! Furthermore "The Finger" was told, he'd never know who the gangsters were. In a town where everyone knows whether their neighbor wears silk pajamas or a cotton night shirt at retiring time, the idea that anything like that could be kept quiet is funny. Why, you can't ramble in after 9:30 without someone trying to put it in the paper! But a threat of that sort is a really serious thing. It shows that "the boys" have been students of the Chicago crime wave. Even yet Bethel Streets may be a playground for machine guns or tong hatchets. If things are to come to such a pass it is well that the individual directly concerned receive an official warning! It makes the surprise less, and in a case like this he can practice up on his swimming stroke!

"Doc" Is Tired of Being the "Goat"

Doctors are quite human. They need to eat. They must have a place to sleep. And you'd be shocked if they strolled in wearing a ragged shirt and a pair of overalls. But a lot of persons are chronically sick. They feel they must call in "Doc". He humors them, prescribes for them, sometimes hauls out a few pink and white pills. He hesitates a moment before leaving and when no movement is made toward a pocket-book he strolls blithely out toward his next call. After half a dozen or more visits he sends a bill. Then friend patient is peeved and calls in another doctor. After he's exhausted the list he pays a couple of bucks to each one and starts all over. But down in Sanford and Springvale the doctors are getting tired of this sort of "deadbeat." And so they are making a "black list" of these accounts. Persons who conscientiously try to pay when they are able won't be included. The physicians recognize that, with some, not paying is getting to be a definite "racket." They are tired of being the "goats." Perhaps the physicians in Bethel are more fortunate. Does your conscience bother YOU?

It Isn't Agin the Law!

We were told, and so far investigation bears it out, that it isn't against the law to sidle up to a hydrant and park there. Up in front of Odeon Hall an ornamental sign says "No Parking Within 10 Feet." Evidently this is a specially favored hydrant; the powers that be may have decided the next fire will be near there and are going to keep that space clear. Anywhere else, if there should be a fire, the fireman will take ten or fifteen minutes to push the cars away so they can get to water. You'll pard us, I'm sure, if a person from places where hydrants are kept clear by town ordinance didn't realize what excellent hitching posts they make for automobiles. You see it is generally recognized that the longer a fire burns the more damage it will do. Of course, that's all wrong as far as Bethel is concerned! Still, just for form's sake and not to appear odd it might be a good idea if Bethel adopted an ordinance similar to other places, and make sure that the lane could be connected to the hydrant in the shortest possible time.

A Town Ordinance Isn't a Law!

Here's a tip for you. Every town has a book of rules and regulations to govern the acts and practices of its citizenry. But a legal luminary has informed us that a town ordinance is not a law until it has been confirmed and upheld by a trial justice. Doesn't that upset the applecart? Here we have been keeping off the grass, ducking the night cop after curfew has rung, slowing down on Main Street, etc., without finding out whether or not someone had been pinched to establish a precedent! Won't someone please look up past offences against the town ordinances and tell us which ones haven't been legally upheld? Then we can all have a merry time breaking the other rules until some one is unlucky enough to be hauled in to establish a precedent.

Well, That's Over!

The great American republic has survived another period of concentrated hot air. The best man has won, if you believe his adherents; and the country is going to the bow-wows, if his opponents are to be believed. Oh well, we still live somehow!

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Bethel where he has lived since. He received his education in the public schools and Gould Academy. He has served as constable for 30 years and as deputy sheriff for eight years. He is a dealer in farm machinery and has been engaged in the coal and wood business for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis were the recipients of many gifts, including gold, silver, flowers, linen, china, etc., as well as many congratulatory cards and letters. The crowning event, and best gift of all was the news of the arrival of a great granddaughter, born to Mrs. Gladys May Wormell Coleman of Portland on this eventful day, which was also the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mrs. Coleman's mother, Mrs. Maude A. Davis Wormell.

Those present were Mrs. Sophronia Wallingford of Bangor, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Edwards, Mrs. Henry Flint, Mrs. G. N. Sanborn, Miss Beatrice Brown, Mrs. Grace M. Walker, Mrs. Mary Lapham, Mrs. Alice Littlehale, C. Merle Swan, Miss Eva M. Ladd, and Miss Julia Brown.

This is just a little story
Of two people whom you know;
And of "happenings" in Bethel,
Half a century ago.

'Twas the third day of November:
Oh, how well they still remember
When they stood before the altar, side by side!
But the ride behind old Dobbin
Had set both their hearts a-throbbin'
Though he'd longed to be a groom, and she a bride.

Oh, a chaise was then their "car," and
The home of Rev. David Garland
They had reached, and were just entering the door
When her feet, in new shoes, failed her
As a sudden fright assailed her,
And she stubbed her toe upon the parsonage floor!

But no great harm could betide her
With Charles Lincoln close beside her,
And true-hearted love can never lose its grip.
They have laughed, since, to remember
Her swift entrance, that November,
And perhaps it might be called her wedding "trip."

Still the great event must tarry
Ere they lawfully could marry;
The Certificate the groom has failed to bring!
So old Dobbin now must hurry,
Or they'll surely have to worry
Lest the bride can never wear her wedding ring.

But good Dobbin could be trusted,
Though perhaps a bit disgusted
At the extra mile which he so fast must go.
Soon the paper was presented
And the parson then consented
To tie the knot,—just fifty years ago.

Oh, the wedding dress was green,
And she wore it like a queen,
With a hat of green upon her youthful head.
They appeared at church, next Sunday,
And folks talked of them, on Monday:
"They're the prettiest couple round here," it was said.

Now you've guessed just who the bride was?
Yes, 'twas Nellie Florence Lucas,
And the groom, Charles Lincoln Davis, son of him
Who, from Dartmouth, as physician,
Magnified, for years, his mission,
And the memory of whose skill is not yet dim.

* * * * * *

Fifty years since then have passed,
Some so slowly, some so fast!
Some with happiness were filled, and some with pain;
But today, they will forget
All the hardships, and will let
Only joyful, precious memories remain.

Life is like the month they wed
Clouds may gather, overhead,
And some days be dark and desolate and drear;
Then the land of Nature lays
Over all a golden haze,
And the glorious Indian Summer time is here!

Though they've lived in different places
They could meet familiar faces;
In this village, they have always made their home

On Mechanic, Mill, or Main Street,
Chapman, High,—just where we now meet,
And from which they have no wish to further roam.
Oh, their chaise is now a car,
And they're "Grandma" now, and "Grandpa"
To a quartette of young people, growing fast;
But, today, they both are giving
Backward glances, and re-living
Their own glad and happy youth—the golden past.

* * * *

Now we wish for both the health
Which more precious is than wealth;
May the future be to them serene and bright.
May they life's best blessings know
As they together onward go:—
This our wish, upon their Golden Wedding night.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

L. A. Edwards, Pastor

9.30 Church School. Miss Ida Packard, Superintendent.

11:00 Morning Worship with sermon by the pastor. Subject: Servant and Master."

We are all more or less obedient to some Master. The mandate may come from our inner selves, and we become slaves to our selfish desires; or we may see the world's need and it compels us to serve; self interest is forgotten and we become altruistic.

There is a passage in the New Testament that reads, "The Master is come and calleth for thee." That call has echoed down the ages. How many of us hear and respond?

6:30 Comrades of the Way. This will be a secret meeting, as the Admission Step will be given to those who have been recommended for membership

7:30 There will be a mass meeting in the Methodist Church conducted by members of the Volunteers of America. This is the group that came to our church last year and that were so much enjoyed by a large congregation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday School at 10 o'clock.

Services Sunday morning at 10.45. Subject of the lesson sermon, Mortals and Immortals.

Wednesday testimonial meeting at 7:30 p. m.

COMMUNICATION

Mr. Editor:

A man who rakes leaves on the lawns of Bethel, Maine, charges $3.50 a day. (That price may not obtain in less fortunate towns, but is the one charged here.) A skilled worker in England gets from four to five dollars a week. On the Continent less. Wages are sustained in America by the maintenance of a tariff. The Democratic party stands for a lowering of the tariff. President-elect Roosevelt has repeatedly expressed his intention of breaking down the outrageously excessive rates of our present tariff act, which alone makes the American standard of wages possible.

We wish the working men and women who rushed in such force to the polls to oust President Hoover all joy in their choice. SUBSCRIBER.

SUPERIOR COURT AT SO. PARIS

John Faddoul of Rumford, Burning building to defraud insurance companies.

Albert Mailliet of Mexico pleaded guilty to burning a building at Rumford. He pleaded not guilty to reckless driving, resulting in the death of Perley Leduc of Barre, Vt.

Maurice Andrews of Bethel pleaded not guilty to an indictment for larceny.

Joseph T. Bryant, Jr., guilty on three indictments, larceny of Chrysler car, breaking and entering the roadside stand of George Boutelle, and escaping jail.

George C. Richardson of Bath, guilty of adultery.

Harold Marston, guilty of forgery.

Joseph T. Bryant, Jr., of Woodstock was sentenced to serve not less than one year nor more than two years at the State's prison on an indictment charging breaking and entering and larceny. Two other indictments charging grand larceny and escaping jail were placed on file.

Orville Arsenault of Rumford was sentenced to the State Reformatory at South Windham for the larceny of a pen and ring.

Frank W. Deering was sentenced to serve 11 months in the County jail on the charge of forgery.

John Faddoul of Rumford pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging that he burned a building on Canal Street, Rumford, to defraud insurance companies.
